NEW CARNATIONS

AIDA

*First Class Certificate
Award of Merit
Special Cash Prize
Silver Medal*

THIS is a salmon pink seedling of 1932. The flowers are very large and full-centered yet they do not split the calyx and are borne on exceptionally strong, straight stems, which hold the flower erect at all seasons.

The color is uniform and does not fade as the warm, bright days of Spring arrive. Neither does the size decrease. In fact the blooms constantly improve as the season advances.

We are always able to secure premium prices for blooms of Aida from the start of the season.

The plants are large, bushy and vigorous and are easy to grow and propagate.

Production is heavy and continuous.

The blooms ship well and keep well. Most of the flowers of Aida have been shipped to outside markets where they have arrived in perfect condition and have sold at premium prices.

There is no salmon pink carnation today of any commercial consequence in a class with Aida.

We are offering for sale this year only a few thousands of each of these varieties in order to introduce them to the trade. No single order for more than 1000 cuttings will be accepted.
